Quick Snapshot: From the streets of Johannesburg to esteemed academic halls and national television, Dr. Frank "Dr Mags" Magwegwe's journey is a testament to resilience, the transformative power of education, and the indomitable human spirit. Not just an authority on the subjects he teaches and speaks about, Dr Mags possesses lived experience that adds unparalleled depth to his insights. With a rich 25-year career in the financial services sector, he stands as a leading figure in personal and corporate finance, well-being in the workplace, and personal and team resilience.

A Journey of Triumph: In 1992, adversity struck, leaving Dr Mags homeless, broke, and unemployed. But 1993 heralded a turn of events. Through resilience, sheer grit, determination, and good fortune, Dr Mags ventured into selling fruit and vegetables in downtown Jozi. This marked not only his successful attempt at "beating the odds" and "escaping" homelessness, but also the start of his inspirational journey from the streets to the boardroom, and academia. As aptly put by Nelson Mandela, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." Dr. Mags is a shining beacon of this profound truth, embodying the transformative power of education in every stride he takes.

On The Air: Tune in every Wednesday night on 702 from 20h00 - 21h00 to catch Dr Mags on the Financial Matters feature with Aubrey Masango. If you are an early riser, don't miss him on Tuesday mornings as the go-to personal finance and financial wellbeing expert on eTV's The Morning Show.

Research at GIBS: Dr Mags current research spotlights resilience, mental health and well-being. Viewing resilience as a teachable skill and well-being as an ongoing journey, Dr Mags aims to understand how people adapt positively to challenges, drawing inspiration from his own personal experiences.

Beacon of hope: Dr Mags is not just a speaker or educator; he's an experience. His insights on resilience, mental health, and well-being in the workplace are not just theoretical but lived, making every interaction with him profound and transformative. Book Dr Mags for your next event and let your audience experience a journey of resilience, triumph, and the boundless power of the human spirit.
